Number 20

Candidates To Talk Saturday

Final Drive Is Being Made by Candidates For First Primary July 27

All district, county and precinct candidates are invited to attend the political rally at the bandstand Saturday night starting at 8 o'clock.

A loud speaker has been provided for the occasion, and will be available at no charge to the candidates. Voters of Randall county are invited to attend this rally. This will be the only political rally held in Canyon in which all local candidates are invited to participate.

Candidates are active this week as the local campaign starts down the home stretch. It is expected that many of the candidates will make a house-to-house canvass of the voters between now and July 27. Local candidates must file their second expense account on or before July 19.

There has been a large demand for absentee ballots this week. Voters who know that they will be out of town on July 27 may cast their absentee ballots until midnight of July 23. Those who have had such absentee ballots mailed to them must have the return envelopes postmarked by July 23.

J. W. Shook, judge of the election in Precinct 1, calls attention to provisions of the law regarding voting of sick persons. If any voter is sick and cannot come to the polls, he must apply for an absentee ballot, with a physician's certificate attached that he will be unable to go to the polls. The election judges cannot send clerks out to permit sick persons to vote. However, those who are unable to leave their cars may drive to the polls and a clerk will permit them to mark their ballot in the car.

Old Well Caved In Saturday at the Martin Place

An old well caved in at the Dr. Martin place on Eighth Avenue, now occupied by the Newt Hileman family. The cave-in made a hole 48 feet deep. The well was supposed to have been about 65 feet deep originally. The well is located a little to the northeast of the house. Members of the family had walked over the well hundreds of times during the past few weeks.

C. H. Stratton states that he and Mrs. Stratton had visited at the Hileman home the evening before and crossed the lawn at the exact spot of the cave-in. He is one of the oldest citizens of Canyon and does not recall a well at that spot. It had evidently been filled in about 18 feet before the cave-in. However, there were no signs of timbers along the wall which might indicate that the well had been boarded up and covered with earth.

Burgan Family Has Reunion July 14 at Elwood Park

For the first time in five years, the Burgan family had a reunion. The group spent Sunday at Elwood Park in Amarillo. A picnic dinner was served at noon.

A few voters were on the square at that time. Instead of speaking, Dr. Rainey spent a few minutes shaking hands with those who were in the neighborhood of the bandstand. He was introduced to Canyon people by J. L. Dufflot.

A dinner was held in Amarillo Monday night, following which Rainey spoke on the court house lawn.

Storage Tank Contract Let

First Improvements Under Bond Issue Will Be Made—Bids on Street Paving

The City Commission has let the contract for the new overhead storage water tank to the Chicago Bridge & Iron Co. The price was $28,700. Owing to the shortage of steel the company would not guarantee that the tank would be ready for use before 350 days. If materials are secured the tank will be completed in less time.

There were two bidders on the job, which is the first to be let under the $100,000 bond issue which was approved June 1 by the voters of Canyon.

Bids are being called in this issue of The News for street paving. Streets to be paved will be determined by the kind of contract which may be received at this time. It is planned to pave 8th Avenue, and to fill in a number of streets which need paving.

Report Made on Rotary Conference at Lunch Tuesday

Members of the Canyon Rotary Club heard a report from the District Conference of the 127th District of Rotary International at the weekly luncheon Tuesday. The conference was held at Childress with Arthur C. Haley, Jr. and Boone McClure as delegates from the local club. There were more than 200 delegates at the conference.

There are now 62 clubs in the district; 5,800 clubs scattered throughout the world, with 275,000 members. Mr. Haley reported on the various meetings of the conference, and the plans which had been made for Rotary during the coming year.

The visitors were entertained in the Rotary Bowl, which is an outstanding project of the Childress club.

The outstanding speech of the conference was by the District Governor of Pune, India. He talked of conditions which exist in that country, and the need of the world for understanding. With a population of 400 million people, the average yearly income is only $30. Propaganda thrives in the east until it is impossible to believe what you hear or read.

"The love of God is the only thing that will settle the differences between people," stated the speaker.

Visitors were: Henry Robinson of Panhandle; Frank Barnes, Arch Hunsley, Fred Carr, Carl Franz, Tom Wingate, all of Amarillo.

Miss Wynema Robbins left Wednesday for a vacation in Santa Fe and Albuquerque, N. M.

Miss Betty Robbins of Hereford is visiting her sister here, Miss Marcia Robbins.

Col. Al Baggett Collapsed Saturday San Antonio

Lt. Colonel Al Baggett is sick at the Army Camp in San Antonio, having suffered a collapse Saturday morning. He had been in San Antonio for a week for a general check up pending his discharge from the army at the end of his terminal leave of 119 days. He recently returned from Europe where he served for 32 months in the Physical Education division of the Army.

Col. Baggett had walked about a quarter of a mile to the telephone exchange and had placed a call for his wife in Amarillo. He collapsed while waiting for the line. He gave the medical office instruction as to how to reach Mrs. Baggett before being taken to the hospital.

Coach Leslie Van Meter drove the Baggett car through for Mrs. Baggett. He states that the physicians are unable to locate the trouble of Col. Baggett but thought perhaps the series of treatments and the prevailing hot weather might have caused his collapse.

Van Meter returned home Tuesday, but Mrs. Baggett remained in San Antonio. She will bring Col. Baggett back to Amarillo as soon as he is able to make the trip. He told Van Meter that he expected to be in Canyon by Sept. 1 to resume his work as head of the Physical Education Department of West Texas State.

Schools To Draw Large Funds From State Next Year

Public schools of Texas will have the unexpected and unheard of state aid of $41 per enumerated scholastic for the school year starting Sept. 1, to far exceed any previous apportionment in the history of Texas.

This was assured Monday when the State Board of Education set next year's apportionment at $35 per child and added $6 supplemental to this year's $30 but with the proviso that it be applied on next year's budget. This is subject to the Attorney General's approval and availability of money to pay it. There is more than enough money to pay the $6 addition to this year's allocation.

The foregoing adds up to maximum state school tax rate of 35c to be set later this month by the state automatic tax board. The $6 supplemental includes $4 previously voted and added by another $2.

Plane Crash at Field Tuesday

First Crash Since West Texas State Flying Field Was Started in 1939

The first plane crash since West Texas State Flying Field opened seven years ago occurred Tuesday evening. One of the men in the plane received minor injuries, but the pilot escaped without injury. The plane was wrecked.

The plane was a BT 13, 450 horsepower motor. It was recently bought from the government by Lieut. Anderson of the Amarillo Army Air Field, who has 2400 hours in the air to his credit.

Homer Jackson, employed by G. W. Cox at the West Texas Field, was driving the plane. In taking off the engine stalled, which caused the crash. Jackson was taken to the hospital for treatment, but Lt. Anderson was not injured.

G. W. Cox, owner of the Field and an ardent advocate of aviation, stated that he and his associates had been very fortunate in having gone this far with this single crash. He has trained thousands of students in flying at the Field since it was opened as a training center for cadets who were stationed at West Texas State.

Alumni Approve Amendment For College Building

Alumni of Texas state colleges met in Dallas Monday and approved the constitutional amendment which will be presented to the regular session of the legislature to provide a permanent building fund for the colleges of Texas.

The University of Texas and A. & M. College will not participate in the fund due to the fact that these institutions receive building funds from the university oil lands. All of the other state institutions would receive a regular percentage so that an uninterrupted building program may be started. Such a constitutional provision exists in many states.

Under the plan West Texas State would receive 5.41643% of the annual tax.

The constitutional amendment calls for the reduction of the present 7c tax levy for Confederate veterans to 2c; and establishment of a fund of 5c for college building fund. In this manner the taxpayers would not increase their taxes, but would provide for a permanent building fund without going to the legislature each session to try to get appropriations.

President J. A. Hill attended a meeting in Waco last week of college executives who are working on the submission of this amendment to the voters in 1947.

Collapsed Suddenly After Illness of Several Weeks—Funeral Held Wednesday

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of the West Texas State College, died Monday morning at the family home at 8:40 o'clock. He has been in a serious condition for several weeks, but was thought to be improving until a fatal heart attack took him without warning.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Robert Jones, assisted by Rev. Joe Findley of the Christian Church, and President J. A. Hill.

Interment followed in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were W. J. Flesher, Roy Byrd, Jay Prichard, John A. Gullis, Dr. L. F. Sheffy, F. E. Savage, Mitchell Jones, and Dr. Lee Johnson.

Honorary pall bearers were members of the faculty and close friends of the deceased.

In 1920, Dr. Jarrett came to West Texas State College after teaching experience which began at a small school in Hood County in 1901 and was followed by work at Cisco High School, a principalship at Granbury High School followed by the superintendency, superintendency at Temple, Oklahoma, and membership on the faculty of the State Teachers College at Weatherford, Oklahoma. He came to this college as head of the Department of Education and in 1924 became Associate Dean. In 1927, he succeeded L. G. Allen as Dean.

Dean Jarrett's first study out of the State of Texas was at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, where he did his first work in 1902 and from which institution he received his Ph. D. degree in 1927. In the years between, he did work at the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. College.

Education studies which he carried on or with which he collaborated included, "Student Evaluation for Appointment Committees," "A Student Rating Schedule," and "Status of Courses in Psychology in State Teachers Colleges."

Professional and honorary organizations to which the Dean belonged included Phi Delta Kappa (Peabody), Southern Psychological Association, Southwestern Social Science Conference, the National Education Association (life), and the Texas State Teachers Association (life).

Dean Jarrett did not limit his interests to his activities to the college campus. During his entire residence in Canyon, he was identified with the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and with the Presbyterian Church in which he was an Elder at the time of his death. For many years he taught an adult Sunday School class. He was also a Rotarian and had been president of that organization.

With the opening of World War II, Dr. Jarrett, who had served on the Randall County draft board during World War I, was chosen chairman of the Randall County board, a position which he held at the time of his death and to which he had given time and study for almost five years.

The development of a sound program of teacher training, and along with it, a service program that would enable the youth of Northwest Texas to have the best possible college opportunities characterized Dr. Jarrett's work as Dean.

In his relations with students and faculty, his work was always marked by a keen understanding of people and an unusual sense of justice.

Dean Jarrett's immediate family consists of his wife, S. C., to whom he was married in 1907 in Hood County, Texas, a son, Dr. Robert Patton Jarrett, Jr., a daughter, Virginia Williams, a grand son, Bobby Williams, and two granddaughters, Jane and Ann Jarrett.

Editorials

SOME POLITICAL CHATTER

We hereby give the readers of The News the benefit of our opinion as to the primary election which comes off a week from Saturday, July 27. We may be wrong in all of our predictions, or rather selection of candidates, but we have the fun of talking about the candidates.

Senator Tom Connally has four opponents. None of them has been making much noise. It will be a shame if Senator Connally is not re-elected in the first primary. Neither the Senator or any of his friends are taking these fellows seriously as no one has made a speech for the Senator, as it is deemed unnecessary.

Most of you readers know that we are strong for Beauford Jester, candidate for Governor. At first we thought that Rainey would make the second primary. Now we are not so sure. Political observers over the state predict that the people are not taking to him, and are not interested in promoting a man who lost one good job in the state. We shall not be surprised to see Jester and Sellers make the second primary. But we also realize that John Lee Smith and Jerry Sadler likewise have a good chance, together with Rainey, Sellers and Jester. It could develop into a close five-way race. However, we expect to see a different situation before the vote is counted.

We shall support Boyce House for lieutenant governor. We are expecting to see Allan Shivers run a strong race, and there will likely be a runoff between these two. Larry Mills of Dallas has run for some office for many, many years, but never gets elected. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston may have a good South Texas support, but we rather doubt it.

For Comptroller of Public Accounts we are supporting Geo. H. Sheppard. He took this office over when it was in a terrible mess. He has introduced business methods. He is honest and is a highly capable public servant.

Jesse James is our choice for State Treasurer. He has made a good official. This office is more or less a clerical job, but it does handle directly the sale of tobacco and liquor stamps, which adds much to his responsibilities, and a vast amount of money to the state treasury.

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, and L. A. Woods, Superintendent of Public Instruction, get by without opponents.

We are rather inclined to support Price Daniel for Attorney General. His opponent is Pat M. Neff, Jr. For that reason Neff has the benefit of a long and honorable career on the part of his father, Dr. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University and former Governor of Texas. Both are good lawyers, according to our information. Either will make a capable public official. Daniel was a former Speaker of the House and has done more for himself in a public way than Neff.

We have called your attention a number of times to the manner in which the political powers have been seeking to defeat J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture. This time there are three opponents against him. One is named R. E. McDonald. He was inducted into the race for no other purpose than to confuse the people and split the J. E. McDonald following. This is an old, old stunt. It has never worked before. Maybe it will work this year. We shall see.

Olin Culberson will likely defeat both of his opponents for Railroad Commissioner. He has made a capable officer in spite of the fact that he attempted to capitalize during the war in sending letters and telegrams to parents of men who were missing in action. He stopped his practice when errors were made in sending out these notices.

The Supreme Court should not be involved in politics. But it is, and justices must be selected, regardless of what the voters think. For place No. 1 we will vote for the re-election of John H. Sharp; for place No. 2 we shall support the re-election of Graham B. Smedley.

There seems to be quite a scramble for the Court of Criminal Appeals. Tom L. Beauchamp is being opposed by three lawyers. One of them is Weaver Baker, now chairman of the Board of Control and a former law partner of Governor

Coke Stevenson. While we have a personal reason for not being very enthusiastic for Tom Beauchamp, we must remember that Weaver Baker has not been practicing law while a member of the Board of Control. Our United States Supreme Court is filled with political lawyers who have done more politicking than practicing law. Beauchamp was not above playing politics and engaging in side issues before being appointed to this post. We don't know either of the other candidates, but assume that the race will be rather political in nature and between Beauchamp and Baker.

We have a peculiar situation in that there are no contests for any of the district offices. This brings us down to the county offices, where we are fortunate in having splendid candidates, who are well known to the local voters. The News has never presumed to give advice on local candidates. They are all so well known to Randall county voters, who are qualified to pass on the qualifications of those who will serve them in the court house.

The thing in which we are interested is to see that every voter of Randall county goes to the polls on July 27, and casts their ballot for the candidate whom they think is the best qualified, whether it be for one of those which we happen to be supporting, or some other candidate.

By all means—vote—and vote intelligently. July 27 is the date.

Who is to blame for this youth crime wave? We have the habit of pointing a finger of accusation at the other fellow when such conditions arise. The facts are that all of us are to blame. While the parents may be the chief sinners in having neglected the rearing of their children during the war, did the rest of us do our part? Did we raise teachers' salaries in order to keep qualified teachers in the school room rather than allowing them to go into more attractive war jobs? Have we provided youth centers where youth may go for supervised entertainment, and not force them to go to honkytonks for their entertainment? Have we provided playgrounds, parks, gymnasiums, swimming pools where youth may have a place to play? Have we furnished good reading matter for youth, or have we fed them on trash? Consider these, and see just who is to blame, and to what extent are they to blame? Will you and I take our part of the blame, or will we still continue to point a finger of accusation at the other fellow?

We are not running the campaign of John Lee Smith. We are not supporting him for governor. We think that he is too much of a one-tracked mind individual. He has based his campaign on fighting Homer P. Rainey. He talks little about his own qualifications, but sure gives Rainey the very dickens. Maybe that is good politics, but we doubt it. We are of the opinion that both Smith and Rainey are taking things for granted. They both consider that they are sure shots for the second primary. According to recent polls we shall not be surprised to see both of them left out when the votes are cast on July 27. We think that Governor Stevenson comes more nearly being correct in predicting that Sellers and Jester will go into the second primary.

We are happy to see so many candidates for state office come out in favor of redistricting. Even the lopsided representative district which was cut out for this section by the last session of the legislature is better than no redistricting bill.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

County Commissioner, Precinct No. 3

I wish to thank the voters of Precinct No. 3 for their splendid co-operation while I have served as your Commissioner.

I am grateful to have no opponent this year and trust that this means I have given satisfactory service, as I have always tried to do. I hope you will vote on July 27.

A silly charge was made in an adjoining Representative race. It was stated that a big corporation was trying to buy control of the next legislature, and that it had bought one of the candidates a farm. This is the same silly charge that bobs up nearly every election. The facts are that if any corporation tried to "buy" the legislature, it must "buy" at least 55% of the members, and "own" the governor to boot. If there are any voters in Texas who think that our legislature and our governor is that corrupt, we have gone back 50 years in our political thinking. Just why any corporation would want to spend millions of dollars to "buy" up a legislature and a governor is beyond us. If it should be successful, then it would likewise have to "buy" up the courts and the people. Any corporation which might succeed in "owning" any legislature would have a terrible time in future years trying to explain its actions to the voters. When you hear any candidate proclaiming that the law makers or governor are about to be "bought up" it is the sign of gross ignorance, or of rank dishonesty.

According to the Belden Poll, published Sunday, Dr. Rainey maintains his lead in the Governor's race, with Beauford Jester second. The facts are that if Rainey is to be the next Governor of Texas he must win in the first primary. The poll shows he has only 33% of the voters. If Jester goes into the second primary with Rainey the deposed University President will not pick up many more votes than he receives in the first primary. All of the other candidates for governor are against him. We hope Belden is correct in his latest poll.

People of Randall county have a chance to help a worthy enterprise. The campaign is on to finish the second unit of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum. There is no enterprise in West Texas which has enlisted the cooperation of so many people as the building of this great enterprise. The history of a great people is being preserved in the museum. Those of us who are passing this way in 1946 have the opportunity of helping preserve this history for the benefit of coming generations. Make your checks generous.

We are certainly pleased with the American spirit of fair play and honest dealings. So far as we have observed the shortage of critical goods and materials have not been getting on the nerves of people. Disgusted? Naturally many people are thoroughly disgusted by the slow movement of reconversion, but on the whole people are taking the situation cheerfully and not getting unduly peeved at conditions over which they have no control.

For $6 we are offered the opportunity of getting the low down on what is going to happen in the future. Too cheap! If any one can give us any reliable information on the economic trend of the next 10 years it should be worth real folding money—not a mere measly six bucks.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF P. FRIEDEL DECEASED

Notice is hereby given that original letters testamentary upon the estate of P. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same to me within the time prescribed by law. My residence and postoffice address are Box 2570, Amarillo, Potter County, Texas.

Washington reformers would leave the people alone they might defeat Bilbo. The people of Texas have about the same situation this year. Washington reformers are trying to elect Rainey. In 1948 they will try to defeat O'Daniel. When the South succumbs to the wills of Washington reformers, look out, brother, we shall have the political chain around our neck in a big way.

After being kicked out by the various federal bureaus, it is now assured that West Texas State will receive substantial housing facilities for veterans who wish to attend the college. Red tape is the standby for our federal agencies. When it comes time for action, some one should be able to find out in a very few minutes who has the authority for action rather than causing so many unnecessary delays.

While business men generally do not want to see OPA again imposed upon them, it is refreshing to see the manner in which the general policy of OPA is being voluntarily continued. America stands for sound competition. OPA must be killed some day, so why not give business a chance to run the affairs of the nation without a Washington hand on the throttle.

Two bricklayers were working on a tall building. A man at the top shouted down: "I say, Pat, come up here a minute and listen." Pat struggled to the top. "I can't hear anything," he said. "No," said Mike. "Ain't it quiet?"

Cuts Use of Corn In Processed Food

15 Per Cent Limit Ordered By Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The agriculture department ordered a 15 per cent reduction in the use of corn in manufactured foods.

The order applies to such foods as grits, corn meal and breakfast cereals, but not to items like canned sweet corn or popcorn.

The decree also curbs the use of corn, wheat or other grains by manufacturers of livestock and poultry feed and the purchase of grain to feed hogs, cattle and poultry. Most grain fed to livestock is grown by the farmer who feeds it, however, and the use of such feed is not restricted.

The action is designed to make more grain available for export to hungry people abroad. The department's statement said it also should help relieve feed shortages in some areas of this country.

The order prohibits the purchase of grain or grain products to feed hogs to a weight beyond 225 pounds, except for breeding stock, or to feed cattle better than grade A. This is one grade from the top, grade AA.

In the case of chickens, turkeys, ducks and other poultry, growers are limited in their purchases of grain or grain products to such amount as will feed 80 per cent of the number of fowl they fed in 1945. The limitation applies by months from April through September and the 80 per cent is to be calculated on the corresponding months of 1945.

The order does not affect feeding activities by farmers with grain they grow themselves.

Manufacturers of mixed feed are limited in their use of grain, grain products, and by-products each month to 80 per cent of what they used in the corresponding month of 1945.

Food manufacturers and dry processors are restricted in their use of corn or grain sorghums to 85 per cent of 1945, by months.

Use of sorghums by wet processors is limited each month to 80 per cent of the average monthly consumption for the first six months of 1945.

The order also imposes inventory restrictions on feeders and manufacturers and provides for appeals in hardship cases.

New Electrical Lamp Is Created of Fluid Metal

CHICAGO. — Walter S. Huxford, professor of physics at Northwestern university, recently demonstrated a new electric lamp that produces light of 1,000 watt brilliance from a bit of molten metal .003 of an inch in diameter. It is known as the concentrated arc lamp, is glass inclosed, and resembles a small radio tube. Lamps of much greater wattage have been made, Professor Huxford said. He helped to develop a lamp in the Western Telegraph company's research laboratories on Long Island, N. Y. It was used secretly in war research for three years.

Liquor Clerk Makes Sale To Man Who Held Her Up

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—A liquor store clerk relied on habit to help her regain a small part of the loss in a holdup, criminal court records showed.

After a man relieved the cash register of $389.89 at gunpoint he ordered a fifth of whiskey, it was related during a hearing.

"That'll be $3.62," said the woman clerk. The man obediently counted out the amount from the store's money and handed it back to her.

Man's Visual Apparatus Conveys Sense of Depth

Things look pretty flat to dogs, monkeys and other animals, says the Better Vision institute, but the visual apparatus of human beings is so arranged that what we see has depth, or substance.

In lower animals, the nerve from each eye passes over completely to the center of hearing on the opposite side of the brain," says the institute. "However, in ascending the scale of animals part of the optic nerve continues along to the same part of the brain, with the major part crossing over to the opposite side. In human beings, half of the optic nerve of the eye goes to either side of the brain.

"It is believed that this arrangement gives man three-dimensional seeing that is superior to that of monkeys and other animals. Each side of the brain receives a picture from both eyes. The imposition of these pictures, one upon the other, results in a process which is thought to be similar to that of a stereoscope. In that instrument two flat pictures, with slightly different perspective are viewed, one by each eye. The two flat pictures are fused together in the brain and, as anyone who has used a stereoscope knows, the resultant picture takes on depth. The nerve arrangement in the human seeing apparatus, with half of the nerves going to either side of the brain helps to produce the stereoscopic vision, or depth perception, of human eyes.

Transplanted Cornea Offers Hope to Blind

Blindness caused by injury to the cornea, through disease or accident, strikes men, women and children of all ages, rich and poor alike. At the present time, corneal tissue taken from the eye of a living or dead person may be stored for only three days before transplanting. One of the principal objectives of the research to be sponsored by the eye-bank for sight restoration of New York is the discovery of a method of preserving corneal tissue for a longer period.

The operation substituting a healthy cornea for a damaged one can restore sight in only one type of blindness — that caused solely by opacity of the cornea when the rest of the eye and optic nerve are normal; it is estimated that between 10,000 and 15,000 blind persons in the United States may have an opportunity to see again through the "corneal transplant" technique.

Ophthalmologists are giving devoted service in an effort to restore sight to the blind whenever it is possible, but they also need understanding and financial support from the public. In addition to money, they need the consent of those persons who may be willing to have their corneal tissue used, after death, to help the blind see again.

Prey on Crickets

One million crop-devouring Mormon crickets may be killed per square mile of territory in a season by one species of black wasp, says Dr. Ira La Rivers of the University of Nevada. Mormon crickets are among the worst insect pests that beset farmers in Utah and surrounding states. Dr. La Rivers studied the hunting behavior of the cricket wasp long and carefully. Almost invariably, he says, she first digs the burrow in which she will later place her prey. Then she goes out to get her cricket. She pounces on it from the air and, usually after a rough-and-tumble struggle, succeeds in stabbing it one or more times on the under side of its body. This permanently paralyzes the cricket, sometimes even kills it. Whereupon the wasp drags the prey to the burrow.

Radio for Trucks

A nation-wide truck communications system by FM is disclosed in an application filed with the Federal Communications commission for permission to equip 100 Chicago trucks with radio units much like those used in thousands of police cruiser cars. The applicant hopes to prove that the efficiency of freight handling by motor carriers can be vastly improved and that an average of 10 miles now wasted per day per truck can be saved. Time, money and truck wear can be saved by dispatching or holding departing trucks according to information received by radio. Traffic during storms can be made safer by routing trucks over clear roads around washouts, fallen trees and other obstacles, and help can be rapidly sent in cases of accident or mechanical failure.

Coral Provides Road Beds

One reason the Japanese were able to defend Iwo Jima so stoutly and with so much cost to the marines was due to the absence of coral. The soft volcanic ash and sulphur rocks of the island crumbled under the weight of our military vehicles and tanks. Coral, in previous operations, had provided us with road beds that would hold the heaviest trucks, tanks and guns. Without the coral formations in the Marianas islands, it would have been impossible to carve out the mighty air bases that now are "home" to the giant B-29 bombers. Anything less substantial than the countless skeletons of the polyp would not have sustained the weight of the 68,000-pound sky monsters.

Notes From The County H. D. Agent

Cantaloupe, already on markets in larger supplies than a year ago are expected to be more plentiful after the middle of July, according to marketing specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cantaloupes have more than appetizing flavor and color to recommend them for any meal of the day. Tests at the Arizona Experiment Station show that they are so rich in vitamins A and C that one serving of the usual size furnishes more than a day's requirements for both of these vitamins.

Varieties tested at the New Mexico Station all proved rich in C—an advantage particularly for breakfast serving. Fortunately, cantaloupes come at the season when citrus fruits, outstanding sources of vitamin C for the first meal of the day are relatively scarce and expensive on markets.

Cantaloupes are low in acidity compared to many fruits, yet their vitamin C is relatively stable. Tests at the New Mexico Station showed that cut slices of cantaloupe kept in the refrigerator two to four hours lost none of their C; those kept 18 to 21 hours lost only 13 per cent.

"JOB DIVIDENDS" at General Electric

For the year 1945, $35,000,000 in addition to wages was spent by General Electric in extra benefits for employees

It isn't a new thing for General Electric to put more than money into pay envelopes for its employees.

"Job dividends"—these extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—have a sound business reason. To be successful, a company must be efficient. A man with fewer worries can produce more efficiently, which makes further benefits possible.

Profit-sharing plans, relief and loan plans began over 10 years ago at General Electric. Life insurance for employees, cash for suggestions began over 20 years ago. Pension plans were started 33 years ago. And vacations with pay began 53 years ago.

Every employee has a stake in the future of General Electric. For out of its success—and only out of success—can come further advances in living standards. That is the aim of General Electric, not alone for its employees, but for the public, who gain by new and better products, continuously improved.

This message is timed to help in the choice of candidates for office in the coming election. Every citizen is urged to hear it.

The night message at 8:15 next Sunday will be on "God's Rules for Living." In this message the pastor will show the application of God's rules of conduct to man's successful living.

Sunday School begins at 9:45.

Virgil Henson, the superintendent, reports attendance of 361 last Sunday. Training Union meets at 7:00 p. m. with Miss Eula Potter as Director, and there were 128 present last Sunday. Wednesday service is at 8:00.

Last Sunday was World Relief day at the local Baptist Church and offerings of the day were given to this cause. Total voluntary gifts were $1,699.00, and the fund will be handled by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention as a part of the summer campaign of Southern Baptists for World Relief and Rehabilitation. The offering from the Canyon congregation will be about two thousand dollars when it is completed.

LOOK VISIONLINED

MM Tractors are visionlined for safe, easy and comfortable operation on any farm power job the year around. Visionlining assures better work because the operator can always see what he is doing, and the seat is comfortably low to the rear of the drive wheels for additional safety at all times. "Visionlining" of tractors was introduced by Minneapolis-Moline many years ago and is basically an exclusive MM feature which does much to ease the normal strain on any tractor operator and, thus assures better work and perhaps even more work under many conditions. STAMINA... the ability to "take it" for long periods of tough going... doesn't come as an accessory to tractors or farm machinery. You can't buy it as an EXTRA. It's either designed and built into every part of the machine or it isn't there at all. MM products are famous for stamina—year after year, owners report records of long, low-cost efficient service and the fact that MM products stay MODERN.

Will Bring War Dead Back Home

Under Present Plans Next Of Kin Will Be Polled On Reburial Wishes.

WASHINGTON. — Preparations have been completed for the work of returning 200,000 or more of the nation's war dead. The necessary legislation has passed both houses of congress.

The measure authorizes an outlay which may exceed 200 million dollars. Under present plans, next of kin will be polled to determine whether they desire reburial in national or private cemeteries in this country, or prefer to let those who gave their lives overseas rest there. The entire program will require from two to five years officials estimated, the Associated Press reports.

Meanwhile, in 359 scattered cemeteries in Europe, Asia, the Pacific islands and elsewhere, approximately 241,500 of the approximately 325,000 American war dead have found temporary resting places, by latest reports.

Plan Fewer Cemeteries. Official plans call for a continuous reduction in the number of overseas cemeteries so adequate care and protection may be given graves. In the Pacific, for example, bodies not brought back to this country may be placed in permanent resting places in Manila and Honolulu.

Reports to the army quartermaster general's American graves registration service indicate that graves searching parties have had to match the exertions and ingenuity of the fighting men.

In New Guinea isolated graves have been marked by crosses 15 feet high to stand above fast-growing jungle vegetation, pending transfer of bodies. One party required almost two months to reach the scene of an air crash on a 9,000 foot peak and then to return to base by plane.

In the Philippines the consolidation of cemeteries is almost complete, except for the jungle-choked Bataan peninsula. A report from Capt. S. J. Gladys, who was General MacArthur's graves registration officer on Bataan and Corregidor, suggested that Japanese inhumanity in the 1942 fighting makes unlikely the identification of hundreds of American and Filipino dead.

Task Difficult in China. He said that after Corregidor's fall the Japanese refused American pleas and heaped up and cremated American dead along with their own fallen troops.

In China the task of finding and identifying American remains has been as difficult. More than 1,000 missing army and navy men were being sought recently by eight-man search teams in the isolated "hump" area of the Himalayas between India and China and in coastal regions from which aerial sweeps against Japan were made.

The bodies of thousands of persons, particularly those lost at sea, may never be recovered. The number of those officially listed as "missing" is being steadily reduced by painstaking checking of records and reports, but the army, navy and marines and coast guard together count 14,605 still in this category.

The graves registration service dates to 1867. At the close of the American Civil war there were 316,233 recorded burials of which 140,469 were unidentified men. From World War I, 1,643 bodies never have been identified.

After World War I, 43,610 bodies were returned, the others being left in eight permanent cemeteries in France, Belgium and England.

New Theory Would Change Prospecting for Oil

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — A new atomic age approach toward unveiling Mother Earth's oil secrets—with a challenge of making fabulous additions to the world's known supplies of petroleum—was suggested recently to the American Chemical society.

A group of Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists offered laboratory evidence in support of a theory that crude oil is formed by the radioactive transformation of familiar organic substances—brought about by atomic bombardment of matter in the bowels of the earth.

If their hypothesis is sound, it would mean a revolution in prospecting for oil. Conceivably, instruments designed to trace intense radioactivity could serve as electronic "divining rods" to ferret out new sources of oil supply. And, beyond that, it might even be possible to produce synthetic gasolines and other petroleum products in atomic energy plants.

'Black Market' Legal in Moscow; Food Available

MOSCOW. — There's plenty of food available in Moscow — if you can afford to pay for it.

The food is available in generous supply on the so-called "open market," perfectly legal, but similar in some respects to the black markets of other countries.

If you can't afford the open market then you stick to rationed goods—and the supply and price have not changed much in the past years.

'Drones' Will Fly In Atom-Bomb Test

Naval Men Learn to Direct Pilotless Planes.

SAN DIEGO. — Naval airmen are learning to direct pilotless planes which will fly through columns of radio-active smoke and gases in the Bikini atom-bomb tests.

Pilotless Gruman fighters equipped with radio remote control will soar through the gaseous pillars rising above the atomic bombs to determine the effect on planes flying through radio-active matter.

The pilotless "drones" will be controlled by "mother planes" equipped with radio control. Pilots in training here are learning the complex technique of controlling the pilotless planes in flight.

The "drones" will be launched from the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Shangri-La. Rear Adm. C. A. F. Sprague, who commands the special naval groups participating in the tests, said it would be the first time the navy ever has attempted to launch pilotless fighters from a carrier.

After the pilots of the control planes perfect the takeoff, he said, the Shangri-La will make several trial runs off the southern California coast.

The "drones" will be controlled in taking off by the mother planes working in conjunction with radio operators aboard the carrier.

Sprague said that, for the first time in naval operations, helicopters would play an important role. They will be used both as observation planes and as camera and courier aircraft. They will hover over the bomb blasts and will fly the negatives back to the flagship for development.

The photographic planes will make a complete mosaic picture of the Bikini target area immediately before the bombing and as soon afterward as possible, Sprague said.

This will enable naval experts to determine the effect on target ships and the general surface of the ocean as well, he said.

Find Traces of Ancient Moon Worshipping Cult

WASHINGTON. — Existence of a civilization of moon worshippers, who lived in southern Arabia just before the Christian era, has been revealed by Dr. Carleton S. Coon of Harvard university.

Dr. Coon told of the discovery of the moon worshippers in a report published by the Smithsonian institution.

The worshippers composed four highly civilized kingdoms which were the principal trading link between the east and the west. But of what were once "splendid temples and lofty skyscrapers," Dr. Coon said, only scattered fragments remain.

Their moon religion took many strange forms. Dr. Coon said that in reconstructing the religion from ancient inscriptions, it was found that the people believed "the sun was a woman, and the moon her husband—the stars their children, and of these the most important was Venus.

"These stars eventually became angels; people and animals also were the children of the gods," said Dr. Coon.

This new discovery opens vast new fields for archaeological exploration, the Harvard expert said. An entire new civilization is now expected to be uncovered in the near future.

Millions Lying Here and There in Treasury Notes

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — Almost anybody anywhere might very easily "happen" onto some money he had forgotten existed, just by looking around the house and in deposit boxes and other similar places, the treasury department stated.

Somewhere, treasury records show, there are $23,000,000 worth of government savings bonds which matured — and thus quit drawing interest — four months to more than a year ago.

The same is true for approximately $13,300,000 worth of Liberty bonds and victory notes bought during the First World War but, years after maturity, never have been presented for payment, the Associated Press reported.

The $23,000,000 worth are Series A bonds—ancestors of the defense and war bonds—which were sold throughout 1935. The last of them reached maturity December 1, 1945.

The government's ready to pay off any time, and it's patient about waiting. For instance, some $1,094,000 worth of the old Liberty bonds and victory notes have been cashed in the period since last June 30.

Plane Clips 7½ Hours Off Flight to Hawaii

SAN FRANCISCO. — A new Hawaii to San Francisco flight record of nine hours and nine minutes was credited to a Pan American Airways clipper.

The huge plane flew the 2,402 statute miles at an average speed of 264 miles per hour, clipping 7 hours and 30 minutes off the previous time of flying boats.

Thomas H. Lair (Tommy)

Candidate for the Office

COUNTY and DISTRICT CLERK

Citizens of Randall County:

During the few days left before the primary election, I am hoping to see those Randall County voters that I have not yet contacted. Should I fail to do so, I am asking that you consider this a personal request for your support and vote on July 27.

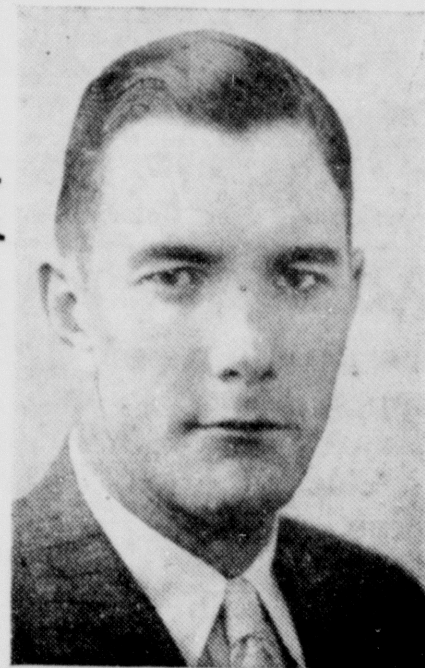

Again, as in my original announcement, I will say that I believe that I am qualified to fulfill the duties of this office and if elected, I shall serve to the best of my ability.

I shall appreciate each vote that is cast in my favor on July 27.

M. E. Cantrell

Candidate for Re-election

Sheriff, Tax Assessor- Collector

To the Citizens of Randall County:

I am a candidate to succeed myself as your Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector. I am asking that all voters of Randall County shall go to the polls on Saturday, July 27, and cast their vote in this important primary. I trust that you will give my candidacy favorable consideration and that I shall receive your support.

I have not deemed it advisable to make a personal house-to-house canvass of the county due to that fact that all our citizens are so busy, and the duties of this office have required so constant attention.

I am asking for your support and vote strictly upon the record of my service in office. I have tried to make you a good official, and if I have succeeded, it shall be my pleasure to continue to give all citizens the same fair and impartial services as I have in the past. I have kept abreast with the new phases in law enforcement, and give full cooperation to all law enforcement officers.

I have employed a well-trained and efficient office force at all times to wait upon you, and if I am re-elected I shall continue this practice. The records of this office have been highly complimented both by State and County auditors. These records are of your public business and are opened at all times for inspection.

Anything that you may do for me in this campaign will be fully appreciated, and I assure you that I shall repay with efficient service during the coming term of office. I trust that you will see proper to approve my candidacy by your vote on July 27.

Miss Elizabeth McCaslin Weds James A. Burran, Jr., Tuesday Afternoon

An altar flanked by six candelabra, living fern, white gladioli, and bittersweet formed the impressive setting for the marriage vows of Miss Elizabeth McCaslin and James A. Burran, Jr. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian Church, Tuesday, July 16, at 5:30 o'clock, with Rev. Robert W. Jones, performing the double-ring ceremony. The marriage united the families of Mrs. Nancy N. McCaslin of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burran, Sr. of Clovis, New Mexico.

For her costume, the bride chose a dusty rose suit with brown accessories. Her hat was a large brown picture hat trimmed with sweetheart roses. She carried a white Bible topped with a brown orchid and sweetheart roses. A strand of pearls, given to her by the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Gilliland of Hereford, sister of the bride, wore an ice blue suit, brown accessories, and a corsage of white gladioli. Mr. Albert Burran of Clovis attended his son as best man.

Ushers were Richard Jones and Joe Moss, both from Clovis.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Lee Foster, organist played "Theme" by Tchaikovsky and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy. Miss Maude Cuenod sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg. During the vows, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah was the soft background music.

The reception was held in Randall Hall, with approximately one hundred guests from out-of-town. Mrs. Gilliland served the cake, after the bride and groom cut the first piece. Mrs. Kenneth Gibson of Canyon served the punch.

Mrs. Burran graduated from West Texas High School in 1940, and from West Texas State College in 1944. She majored in speech, and was a member of Pi Omega sorority and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary speech fraternity.

Mr. Burran graduated from New Mexico Military Institute in 1943, after which he joined the Navy. He received his wings and commission at Corpus Christi in 1945. He is enrolling in Texas Technological College in Lubbock as an architecture major.

Role of Rocket In War Is Told

Starting With Nothing, by End of War We Were in Lead With Weapons.

WASHINGTON. — At the outbreak of war, our armed forces were like kids without fireworks. On the Fourth of July as far as rockets were concerned. But the handicap was made up in deadly fashion, says the United Press.

The army and navy lifted secrecy on more of their wartime rocket weapons. In a report issued jointly with the office of scientific research and development, they said: "When the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor catapulted the United States into war, our army and navy had not a single rocket in service use. Plans for rockets were limited."

The report also frankly admitted that as late as June, 1940—after the fall of France—the armed forces showed only "mild interest" in suggestions of a civilian scientist that rockets could and should be developed.

Ideas Proved Sound.

The scientist was Dr. C. N. Hickman of Bell Telephone Laboratories. He was one of the leading rocket scientists of the recent war, and every one of his ideas proved sound in combat.

We didn't start a rocket program until July, 1940, and we were well into the war before a single rocket missile was hurled at the enemy. We had to depend heavily at first on the experience of the British.

Nevertheless, the report declared, by the end of the war we had: Fired millions of rockets ranging in weight from 3 pounds to almost 1,300, in velocity from 65 to 1,500 feet per second, and having ranges up to 10,000 yards.

Used rockets as weapons for foot soldiers, airplanes, jeeps, tanks, trucks and virtually every type of naval craft.

Wide Variety of Uses.

Employed rockets to smear submerged submarines; to knock out tanks and planes; to spearhead the Normandy break-through in 1944 and assault landings all the way from Oran to Okinawa.

Virtually created a special new powder industry.

Utilized rockets for specialized purposes such as propelling mine clearing and anti-radar devices; launching the American experimental version of the buzz bomb; offsetting the recoil of guns; furnishing high pressure gas for flame throwers—and even driving holes for telephone poles.

By V-J Day, the combined military services were procuring rockets at a cost rate of 1,350 million dollars a year.

The nation's rocket program was carried on jointly by the "rocket division" of the national defense research committee—a branch of OSRD—and by military scientists.

The NDRC group was headed by Dr. F. L. Howde. Research activities were centered at George Washington university in Washington, D. C. and at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

Will Print UNO Data in Five Official Languages

NEW YORK. — United Nations documents will be printed in the five official languages—English, French, Russian, Spanish and Chinese. Day-by-day translations are given in the two working languages—English and French.

The documents will thus be headed:

English—United Nations.
French—Nations Unies.
Spanish—Naciones Unidas.
Russian—You need Russian type, but it would go something like this: O—e-nheh-he hauna.

Chinese—It will be done by hand with characters, running vertically on the paper instead of in the conventional horizontal fashion. Delegates said they hoped to have a newly-developed Chinese typewriter operating here before the end of the year.

Police Car Is Wrecked, Culprits Have Some Fun

COOS BAY, ORE.—The dismantled Coos Bay police are having a bitter time.

Since the force's lone car was wrecked last Saturday, police say they have:

Been called to three fights, but arrived after everyone dispersed.
Spotted car thieves whom they couldn't pursue.

Gloomily watched motorists speeding about with no one to catch them and shouting coy remarks to the foot-bound cops.

War Veteran and Wife Rent Girl's Playhouse

MINNEAPOLIS. — A Minneapolis army veteran and his wife have solved their housing problem.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson, unable to find regulation-size quarters, recently rented a playhouse built 40 years ago for a three-year-old girl.

Anderson, 5 feet, 11 inches tall, clears the ceiling by a comfortable margin but he has to watch his nose and forehead at the doorways.

To avoid accidents, basements and attics should be well lighted.

To Democrats of Randall County: G. G. Foster's name, as our chairman, was left off ticket because of too late notice to me of date to get his name on. Hence, a write in, if we want a party Democrat for our County Chairman. I appeal to all Democrats to write in G. G. Foster's name. All trouble in Party in 1944 was caused by our State Committee. Mr. Butler of Houston chairman, refused to support our nominee, surely a moral obligation of every one who takes part in primary. I'll repeat, to have a Party, we should have Party Democrats.

New Equipment In Use In Chemistry Department

A large part of a shipment of laboratory equipment from the Pantex Ordnance Plant in Amarillo, which was received here in February, is now in use in the Chemistry Department according to Dr. Chester A. Pierle. Arrangements are being made for installation of the pieces not now being used, he added.

The equipment was given to the college, with no cost attached other than that entailed in shipping, as a part of a government plan to distribute surplus war goods to various institutions which can utilize them.

Included in the shipment were two large electric drying ovens, a microscope, a Barnhillwater still, a Saybolt viscosimeter, a stirrer, two chainomatic analytical balances, a du Pont micrometer, a centrifuge mechanical stir, miscellaneous laboratory glass and hardware, and valuable heavy chemicals.

Young Conducts Du Pont Experiment

The Chemistry Department of W. T. has begun its sixteenth year as a paint testing station for the Du Pont Corporation, and for the first time a girl is in charge of experimentation and reporting. Miss Betty Young of Canyon, a chemistry major now in her junior year, was appointed to the position by Dr. Chester A. Pierle, head of the department, after her laboratory work, record keeping and general ability had been carefully observed.

This college is the site of one of four stations maintained by the Du Pont Corporation for the purpose of applying and testing new paints, special consideration being given to the climatic conditions prevailing in a given section. The other three laboratories are located in Delaware, Florida, and Colorado.

The experiment here consists of a series of boards placed so as to be in constant contact with all kinds of weather. This "paint fence," which is located on the College Farm, is frequently mistaken for laundry when seen from town.

As another phase of the testing project, Dr. Pierle often directs the painting of as many as four houses each year. The dwellings are observed in much the same way as the fence. Since 1930 fifty residences in or near Canyon have been repainted under this arrangement.

Call Out Armor In Food Riots

Cars Form Mobile Squads to Guard Convoys and Put Down Violence.

HAMBURG, GERMANY. — British occupation officials announced that mobile armored squads have been organized to put down food riots and root out sabotage groups taking advantage of tension resulting from the general hunger, says the United Press.

Armored cars will join military forces protecting food convoys if additional "difficulty" occurs, the announcement said.

Rations Devoured.
Severe restrictions are to be placed upon the Germans to prevent them from buying and devouring their entire month's ration in a "few days," authorities said. German officials said that had happened on a large scale in Hamburg recently.

The British expressed doubt that 70 per cent of Hamburg's population was without bread because of this practice, as German civilian officials claimed.

'Flour Supply Adequate.'
"Checks show that bakers' shops still have adequate supplies of flour," one British official said. "We believe the looting recently was due to a highly vociferous minority."

Meanwhile, authorities scoured Scandinavia and the empire for new food supplies. An announcement said a British control commission was seeking fish and canned vegetables to substitute for the meat ration.

Seek Supplies.
Supplies are being sought in the United States, Britain, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Denmark and Norway. The search has uncovered quantities of white cabbage, carrots and Swedish turnips in Denmark which have been bought for immediate shipment to Hamburg, according to reports from Copenhagen. The vegetables were valued at 1,500,000 kroner ($300,000 at the 1939 rate of exchange).

First consignments of other foreign food shipments are en route to the British zone, and all should arrive in the next few months, commission officials said. However, they foresaw only a 10 days' supply of flour and insufficient quantities of all other foods except fish.

Additional supplies will be needed, it was announced, to maintain even the "Belsen" ration of 800 calories a day introduced in the British zone on April 1.

"If rations are not increased we shall begin to see its effect on the population in the British zone in a short time," said a high British medical officer. "What happens after that is anybody's guess."

United States Navy Sinks 24 Japanese Submarines

ABOARD U.S.S. GOODRICH OFF SASEBO, JAPAN. — Twenty-four Japanese submarines, including the I-58 which sank the cruiser Indianapolis just before V-J Day, were sunk by the U. S. navy recently with demolition charges and gunfire.

The submarines, deemed unfit for salvage, sank in 900 feet of water off the once-great naval base of Sasebo.

Navy crews enthusiastically completed within three hours the job which they had dubbed "operation road's end."

The Japanese crews as a farewell gesture lashed cherry blossoms to the periscopes of their vessels just before they moved out of Sasebo at dawn under their own power.

Mrs. Soderstrom got the idea when she killed a fat wildcat which invaded her hen house. She skinned it, rendered it and traded the fat to a butcher for four cents a pound.

Early Completion of Museum Advised

At the call of the new president, Hamlin Overstreet of Farwell, the executive committee of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society met in the Panhandle Plains Museum here on July 10, at 2:30.

The purpose of the meeting was to consult with contractors C. S. Lambie and Frank Little of Amarillo concerning the advisability of beginning work on the Museum now. From both the economical and practical points of view, the contractors advised beginning work immediately rather than having to spend two or three thousand dollars for repairs on the north wall of the main unit and the roof of the basement unit.

By letter to each member of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee will recommend that construction begin at once. If a majority of the Directors approves, the work will begin within a few days. All the necessary materials for completion of the project are on the lot.

A tentative contract was given Mr. Lambie subject to the action of the Board of Directors. "Providing we can begin work within a few days, the building should be finished by Christmas," stated Mr. Lambie.

Those present at the meeting were Hamlin Overstreet; David M. Warren, Panhandle; H. C. Pipkin, S. B. Whittenburg, M. O. Carder, and M. W. Hamilton, Amarillo; O. H. Finch, Dalhart; Newton Harrell, Claude; Harold Bugbee, Clarendon; C. R. Burrow, Clyde Warwick, and L. F. Sheffy, Canyon.

"Doesn't that mule ever kick you?" "No, but he frequently kicks the place where I recently was."

"I can't see what keeps you women from freezing."

"You aren't supposed to, big boy."

"My poor man, are you really content to spend your life walking about the country begging?" "No, ma'am, not at all. Many's the time I've wished I had a car."

Boyce House Tells His Platform For Lieutenant Governor

Boyce House, candidate for lieutenant governor, recently announced a clear-cut and forward-looking platform in his campaign, calling for more farm-to-market roads and better prices and marketing conditions for farmers. He also urged higher pay for teachers, full payment of pensions, a "square deal" for veterans, steps to solve juvenile delinquency problems and development of Texas agriculture, industry and resources to provide jobs for all.

"Soils and Souls Sunday" Has Been Set for July 21

Church and farm leaders of Texas unite Sunday, July 21, in observing "Soils and Souls Sunday," when the citizenship renews its vows for stewardship of the soil.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson spearheaded the program by making a proclamation setting aside the special Sunday which was sponsored by Farm and Ranch magazine under the direction of A. B. Kennerly, editor of the publication.

"It is fitting," stated the Governor in his proclamation, "that religious groups should assume the initiative in carrying the message of stewardship of the soil, and that all groups whether governmental or private, should assist in this observance."

Church leaders in various denominations over the state are cooperating in the program and sermons on the special Sunday will be devoted to man's responsibility to God for passing on to future generations a fertile and bountiful soil.

Dr. Ide P. Trotter, Director of the Texas Extension Service has made speeches in many churches in which he stressed the need of connecting a religious emphasis to the pleas for proper handling of God's soil committed to our use.

Other farm leaders active in the program are Lee Ozburn, Regional Director, Farm Security Administration; Walter Hammond, President, Texas Farm Bureau Federation; O. Dawson, Manager of the agricultural department, Second National Bank, Houston; William A. Wilson, Agricultural Director, East Texas Chamber of Commerce; E. D. David, Manager of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association; Robert A. Manire, Director of agricultural education in Texas; V. C. Marshall, Executive Director, State Soil Conservation; B. E. Stallones, Secretary of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives; and W. M. Whyburn, President, Texas Technological College.

Among church leaders cooperating are Dr. A. B. White, rural church leader of Texas Baptists, Don Morris, President of Abilene Christian College, and Dr. Paul D. Wemeldorf, Executive Secretary of Methodists for the Southwest.

"Sorry, Bill, but I lent it to a friend. Do you want it back?"

"Not for myself, but the fellow I borrowed it from says the owner is looking for it."

A Million Children Have Ear Defects

Aid Can Be Given Half of Cases, Says Authority.

CHICAGO.—One million children exclusive of the totally deaf are suffering from some form of hearing deficiency, it was reported.

About 50 per cent of impaired hearing cases in children can be improved, according to Bonna M. Bequette's article in the April issue of Hygeia, health magazine of the American Medical Association.

The hard-of-hearing child is not on a par with other children in the classroom, she pointed out, because he receives only partial benefits of oral instruction.

"A doctor should be consulted to determine if the hearing impairment is caused by a physical defect or disease which can be corrected or cured, such as tonsils, adenoids or sinusitis," she wrote.

Miss Bequette suggested that children whose hearing impairment occurred at birth or in infancy will usually profit from special classes in lip reading.

She advised a special hearing aid for those mature enough to care for it, especially those whose hearing losses are nearer 40 than 20 per cent.

"Since hearing impairment is a defect affecting the language processes, the child should be encouraged to take an active interest in language activities," she said.

"He should be watched so that he does not withdraw from groups or undergo a personality change as the direct result of his impaired hearing."

"Favorable results are obtained if the special considerations that are shown the hearing impaired child are done without calling attention to the defect."

Victory Medal Ordered; Filipinos Are Eligible

WASHINGTON. — The war department recently ordered procurement of the World War II victory medal.

It may be awarded to all members of the armed forces of the United States or of the government of the Philippines who served honorably on active duty at any time between December 7, 1941, and V-J Day.

Pending manufacture of the medal, the service ribbon is being issued as soon as available. The first supply will go to stations at which soldiers are being discharged.

Americans Battle 5,971 Cases of Typhus in Japan

TOKYO. — American infantrymen were fighting a typhus epidemic in the Osaka area described as the "largest typhus epidemic among civilians to confront the army during the war emergency."

Cases reported in Osaka reached 5,971 and 7,113 cases were recorded in the 12 prefects in the 25th division jurisdiction. The death rate was set at 8 per cent.

The number of typhus cases among troops since the occupation was three, none of which was fatal, 8th army medical officers said.

Returned Serviceman Finds Little Difference

LONG PRAIRIE, MINN.—Herbert Lemke has returned to civilian life as a butcher after three years in war, but he talks of the safety of a foxhole. Here's what happened since he's been a butcher: He cut his hand and an infection developed; a knife slipped and six stitches were required to close the wound, and after the wound healed, an ax slipped and knocked him on the head.

Sweden Decides to Cut Ration as Aid to Hungry

STOCKHOLM.—The Swedish government has decided to cut bread and flour rations by about 6 per cent, in order to save grain much needed by war-ravaged countries in Europe. This will save 22,000 tons of rye and 50,000 tons of wheat which already have been purchased in America. Grain to be used for relief in Europe is at the disposal of U. S. authorities.

No Accounting for Tastes; Here's Proof

WEST PALM BEACH. — Really it can be said now, with conviction, that there is no accounting for tastes. Witness E. T. Sarman, who arrived in West Palm Beach in a hearse. He had put a bed in it, he said, in case he could not find a hotel room, and sure enough he was right. He said the bed was very comfortable.

Five-Acre Farm Drops Clean Out of Sight

BRAZIL, IND. — A five-acre lake on a farm near here qualified for the here-today-gone-tomorrow class.

The lake was there the other day, but not even a mirage remained—just mud.

Coal mining engineers said the lake probably had broken through into deep-shaft workings.

Traffic Fatalities Increased 45% on Texas Highways

In the face of an already 45 per cent increase in traffic fatalities over last year, the Texas Safety Association today accepted a charge by Governor Coke Stevenson to mobilize public support for a safer Texas.

Announcement of its destination by the governor was made by A. F. Allen, president of the Association, upon receipt of a letter from Stevenson.

"Since my inaugural address as Governor, I have stressed the importance of highway safety as essential to modern, progressive government," Stevenson said. "There is no more tragic waste of human lives, no more unnecessary background to human suffering, no more needless source of economic loss than traffic accidents."

"The current critical traffic accident situation is a positive challenge for public action to every Texas citizen. Unless vigorous and concerted application of proven methods of traffic control is made, Texas faces the greatest accident toll in its history."

"To that end, I call upon the Texas Safety Association to coordinate the practical recommendations of the President's Highway Safety Conference and to mobilize public support for a safer Texas."

"Your worthy organization has rendered invaluable service to the people of Texas through its programs of traffic, industrial, school and home safety. I know that its leadership in the present emergency will be no less effective."

President Truman's Highway Safety Conference held in Washington this May was attended by twenty members and officials of the Texas Association. Recommendations of the national conference parallel in large measure those of the Texas Emergency Traffic Conference and the Texas Safety Conference according to Allen.

"The principal elements of this uniform traffic control program embrace positive and practical measures that experience has shown are necessary to curtail street and highway accidents," said Allen.

"This basic guide for traffic safety in Texas contains blue-prints for uniform traffic laws and ordinances, adequate traffic enforcement personnel, driver training courses in our schools, and modern techniques in enforcement and engineering."

Allen said the association accepted the governor's charge "in the belief that a balanced and adequate traffic control program of state and local government, fully supported by

During George Washington's time the architect L'Enfant designed the city street plan for the District of Columbia, included many circles in the middle of the main avenues.

Guess he figured future residents would be going around in circles most of the time, anyway.

"Use your noodle, lady, use your noodle," roared the traffic cop. "Oh, my goodness! Will you show me where it is? I've pushed and pulled everything in this car."

Here is a bit of verse by an anonymous writer:
"When I was at the party," said Betty (aged just four),
"A little girl fell off her chair, right down upon the floor;
And all the other little girls began to laugh but me—
I didn't laugh a single bit," said Betty, seriously.
"Why not?" her mother asked her, full of delight to find
That Betty—bless her little heart—had been so sweetly kind.
"Why didn't you laugh, darling, or don't you like to tell?"
"I didn't laugh," said Betty, "cause it was me that fell!"

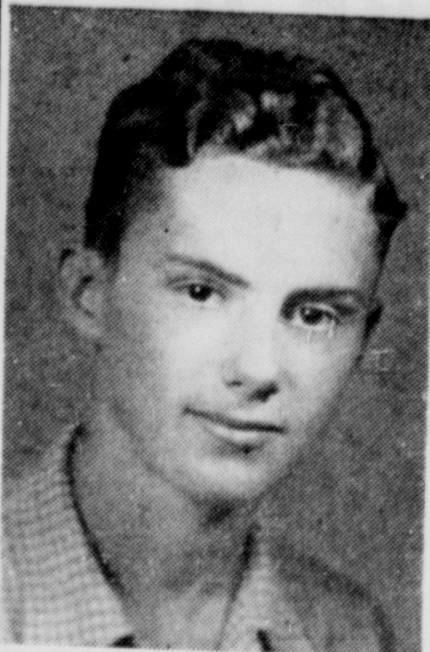

"A Printer's Prayer" makes use of terms that are connected with the work and equipment of a newspaper composing room:

To the Great Printer Who prints in all colors of the rainbow and whose type faces are stars and clouds, autumn leaves and sunbeams, Snowflakes and flowers, this is my prayer:
That I may set up my life to the measure of a man; that I may have the courage, win or lose, to follow the rules of the game; that I may point my life toward the things that count; that I may look up within my heart idle tales, gossip and words that hurt; that I may make ready for the opportunities to serve that come my way; that I may register in my memory the splendor of sunsets, the glow of friendships, the thrill of great music, and the mental lift of inspiring thoughts; that I may press forward in the spirit of adventure toward the new horizons of achievement; that I may also consummate worthy accomplishments; that the impression that I make on the white pages of time may encourage, cheer and inspire all those who cross my path; that I may bind together in my own life all those positive qualities that make for happier, creative, triumphant living; and finally, O Master of Printers, help me avoid the disgrace of making pi of my life and guide me safely around the yawning mouth of the hell box."

THIS ONE AIN'T FUNNY

A group of Washingtonians bought a site for a new house of worship. They put up a sign on the property saying that they would build a new house of worship to be dedicated to "the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God." Somebody smeared the sign with a tar brush. The churchmen made no complaint to police, but put up another sign, merely stating that on this site the Congregation B'nai Israel would build a new synagogue. Again the midnight jackal smeared the sign.

Again there was no appeal or complaint to police—but the elders said the sign would remain: A reminder of "free" America.

The dollar haircut has convinced many of us that it's cheaper to buy a violin.

But get back to the text:

Rain, rain and more rain had its effect on the headline writer who read the June 1 weather report in the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal. He wrote: "June the Worst."

If telephone service is slower ...here's why!

We're taking emergency steps to bring telephone service to people who are waiting.

We're adding more telephones to switchboards already heavily loaded—more telephones than the switchboards were ever intended to handle. This may slow up telephone service here at the busiest times of the day.

In normal times we wouldn't even consider such action. But many people are waiting for service. And new equipment is hard to get and takes considerable time to make and install. The size of the job staggers imagination. Telephone equipment is needed everywhere in large volume.

That's why it is necessary to load the present switchboards to the very limit.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

As fast as we can in the face of material shortages we're pushing our construction program. Our first goal is to serve everybody who is waiting. Then we'll restore service to prewar standards as quickly as we can. It will cost a good deal. This year we plan to spend 47 million dollars in the five states we serve.

Sometimes you may not hear "Number, please?" promptly

With switchboards here heavily loaded, the operator may not always be able to answer your signal as promptly as she and you would like. This may be true especially during the busy calling hours, in midmorning and early evening.

If you do not hear the operator's "Number, please?" for a few seconds after you lift your receiver, we hope you'll understand why. She will answer just as soon as she can.

BETTER FARMING?

WE'RE BUILDING AHEAD OF A FAST GROWING TERRITORY!

He'll say, "I wouldn't be without cheap electric power. I will never go back to the old fashioned method of farming."

Our vast expansion program is designed to bring more power to more farms at a lower cost than ever before. Of course, you are interested in electrifying your farm. Your nearest Public Service office or R.E.A. office can tell you how.
